

MISSISSIPPI AGGIES TO EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Following a conference Friday between a subcommittee from Mississippi, and the committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Fuller, secretary of the Tri-State fair, arrangements were completed for an exhibit to be held by the college at the 1920 fair.

All branches of activity of the college will be massed into one large exhibit which will not only be the means of conserving space but will also be of greater convenience to the fairgoers. Among the exhibits will be: horticulture, dairy, poultry, entomology, boys' and girls' clubs, household arts, cooking, and home economics. According to the committee, this will be the largest exhibit ever made by the college.

Composing the committee which conferred with the fair officials Friday were: J. W. Williams, state agent, L. A. Olsen, district agent, and E. P. Clayton, of the rotary division.

CRITTENDEN ROADS IN SHAPE FOR AUTO CONVOY

Judge C. G. Barton, of Crittenden county, Ark., was in Memphis Friday to confer with Thomas B. King, manager of the highways department, of the Chamber of Commerce, relative to the Crittenden county motor route, which has been planned by the government.

Judge Barton assured Mr. King that roads in his section of the country would be carefully inspected and necessary repairs made so that the convoy would meet with no obstructions in this section. It has been arranged that the motor truck fleet will pass on either branch of the main Bankhead highway, on schedule time, so far as road conditions are concerned. The convoy is expected to pass through Memphis on July 1.

A letter from Judge J. B. Thwaiter, of DeWitt's bluff, Ark., announced that the bottom land roads through the Cattle river valley between Brinkley and Haysen, are in good condition, and that residents of that community are planning to give the officers and members of the convoy a barbecue during their stay in that section.

Mr. King expects to make a tour over a short section of the Bankhead highway in close proximity to Memphis, about July 1, in order that ample time may be had to repair any recent damage to the road. It is also intended to meet the convoy with a procession of Memphis autos at Holly Springs.
